Executive Summary

The average tuition for a full-time student enrolled in Iowa's community colleges will rise $205 to $3,948 in fiscal year 2012 (Table 1). The average tuition increase this year will be 5.49 percent. Since fiscal year 2003, tuition has grown an average of 5.79 percent per year.

The average mandatory fee charged by the community colleges is $339.09 (Figure 3). Five (5) community colleges do not charge students general fees (Table 15). As a result of the attached mandatory fees, the average tuition and fees per credit hour will rise to $142.92, a 5.95 percent increase from fiscal year 2011 (Figure 4).

In comparing regional tuition rates across the Midwest, Iowa currently lies in the middle, as the fourth highest average tuition rate among the eight states surveyed. Minnesota and South Dakota continue to have the highest average tuition rates in this region (Figure 7).

In fiscal year 2010, 54 percent of the community colleges' unrestricted operating revenue came from tuition and fees. As Table 4 shows, this has gradually increased from the 1980 level (adjusted for inflation) of just over 24 percent, doubling in the last 30 years. During that same time period and using the same inflation adjusted numbers, state general aid has decreased from just over 49 percent in 1980, to 29 percent in 2010.

By law, community college tuition is not allowed to exceed the lowest resident tuition charged by Iowa's public universities. In fiscal year 2012, the average community college tuition will be 38.48 percent lower than the average public university tuition rate (Figure 9).

About this Report

The community college tuition and fees report is prepared each fiscal year. The report includes trends in tuition and fees among Iowa's community colleges, as well as comparisons to Iowa's public universities and national comparisons.

Iowa's Community Colleges Resident Tuition

Table 1 lists the average tuition, lowest tuition, and highest tuition charged at Iowa's community colleges for a full-time resident student. Iowa Code limits the total tuition for Iowa residents attending community colleges so as not to exceed the lowest tuition rate per semester charged by a public university for a full-time resident student. A full-time student in this report is a student who enrolls in 15 credit hours.

Average tuition increased $1,570 from fiscal year 2003 to fiscal year 2012, an increase of 66 percent. Tuition gains averaged 5.79 percent each year.

The spread between tuition amounts has increased dramatically since 2003. The difference from the highest annual tuition to lowest annual tuition has increased from $420 in fiscal year 2003 to $630 in fiscal year 2012.

Table 12 in the appendix lists the full-time resident tuition by college for arts and sciences and career and technical education (CTE) programs.

The tuition per credit hour is shown in Table 2. Over the past 10 years, the average tuition cost per credit hour has increased from $79.27 to $131.61 per credit hour. Courses generally range from three to five credit hours in a community college.

Similar to average tuition, the variance between the community colleges has increased. The difference between the highest per credit hour rate and lowest per credit hour rate increased from $14 in fiscal year 2003 to $22.80 in fiscal year 2012. Table 13 in the appendix lists tuition per credit hour by college.

Iowa's Community Colleges Fees

Table 3 reflects the basic fees charged at each community college. Some colleges do not charge a separate fee in addition to their tuition charge. Moreover, these fees do not include any program specific fees.

In fiscal year 2012, average fees will increase $35.10 to $339.09. Unlike tuition, fees have grown 2.80 percent per year since fiscal year 2003.

Table 15 in the appendix of this report lists regular, recurring fees charged by each college. This is not an all inclusive list of fees charged by the individual community colleges.

Tuition and Fees per Credit Hour

Figure 4 shows the per credit hour tuition and fees. Notwithstanding additional fees, this represents the cost of enrolling in a community college. The average tuition and fees charged per credit hour will increase $8.03 per hour in fiscal 2012 to $142.92. See Table 13 for a listing of individual tuition and fees charged by college.

Revenue Sources for Iowa's Community Colleges

Tables 4 and 5 reflect the major sources of revenue for the system of Iowa's community colleges adjusted for inflation. Tuition and fees is the largest share of general operating fund revenues (Table 4).

This revenue comprises 54 percent of total revenues. State, local, and federal funding shares remain at 25-year lows (see Figure 5).

National Comparison of Tuition and Fees

The following information uses data from The Chronicle of Higher Education, Almanac Issue 2010-2011. This report provides data through 2009, which is the most recent national higher education tuition data available. The information will differ from the previous section as the Chronicle data is based on information supplied to the U.S. Department of Education and includes student fees. Iowa Department of Education tables are based on information provided and verified by Iowa's community colleges to the Iowa Department of Education.

From fiscal year 2002 to fiscal year 2009, average tuition at Iowa's community colleges increased 45 percent while the national average increased 55 percent (see Table 6). Tuition and fees are still 59.8 percent above the national average.

Iowa has the fourth highest tuition and fees level of its contiguous states (see Table 7). Minnesota and South Dakota continue to have the highest average tuition rates in this region. Iowa has the second smallest percentage change in tuition and fees from 2002-2009.

Tuition Comparison with Iowa’s Public Universities

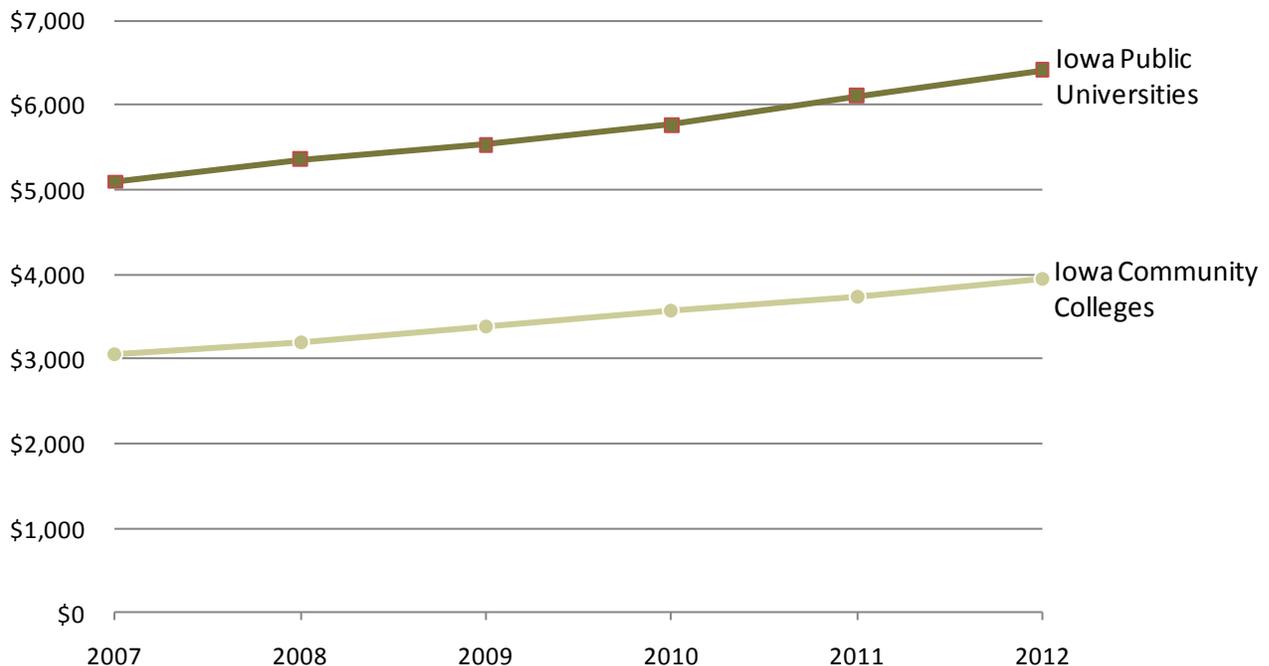

Tables 8, 9, and 10 provide a comparison of Iowa’s community colleges average annual full-time resident tuition rate to the average tuition rate of Iowa’s public universities. By law, community college tuition cannot exceed the minimum tuition at the public universities. In 2012, community college tuition will be 38.48 percent lower than the public university average tuition (see Table 8 and Figure 8). Iowa’s public universities increased tuition 5 percent in fiscal year 2012 compared to the 5.49 percent gain for Iowa community colleges.
